Take a pill and snooze through your dental appointment.

For many Americans, going to the dentist is a frightful event. If you are one of the 145 million people who avoid the dentist due to fear, we have the solution... Sedation Dentistry.

Woodward, OK

I adopted my oldest son when he was 6 years old. He had a friend named Rustin who was the same age and in his class that he hung around with and often went to their house to play.

Rustin was about 7-years old and his dad said to me, “If you can find my son a white Brahma heifer

So Randy brought his son to the sale and I had that Brahma heifer in a pen with about 20 others. Rustin walked up toward that calf and I thought, well, she is not going to be gentle enough for him to walk up to. But darned if she wasn’t. It must have been a calf raised on the bottle because she let him scratch her. He named her Molly and all the family knew her well She started out in the backyard and ended up keeping all the other crazy cows and calves in line. She knew her purpose and was good at it. Molly lived to be 21 years old, and she was buried under her favorite shade tree. I was told that several of the family shed a tear the day Molly died.

I asked my nephew if he was going to bring in those cows that were open a few months ago and preg them again and sell the open ones. He said, “Yes, I plan on it.” I said, “If you want my two youngest boys to help you, they can.” But I said, “You better feed them in the corral a day or two before you can get them in on Sunday.” He said, “I have been feeding them.” I said, “Well, the boys can still help you.” He said, “They like to eat so it shouldn’t be that hard.”

I said, “You mean Mark and Zack like to eat? I agree.” He laughed and said, “No, I meant my cows.”

When I was a boy, my mom would send me down the street to the corner store with a dollar and I’d come back with five potatoes, two loaves of bread, two bottles of milk, a packet of tea and six eggs. You can’t do that now because there are way too many security cameras.

If I had a dollar for every gal that I thought was unattractive they would soon think that I was attractive.

Clinton Man Charged After Punching Deputy

May 9, 2022 - A Clinton man was arrested recently after allegedly hitting a Custer County Deputy.

According to a probable cause affidavit, authorities arrested 39-year-old Daniel Austin Fonseca on April 22 after the altercation, and was charged with with one felony count of assault and battery on a police officer after a felony conviction in Custer County District Court.

The affidavit stated that the deputy was in the process of serving a protective order to the suspect at a home he was located at in Arapaho. The court document stated that when the deputy arrived he asked Fonseca to identify himself, which he did, then was read the protective order to him. He was then asked to vacate the property, but refused.

After being told a second time to leave, the suspect allegedly agreed, stood up, and hit the deputy on the left side of his face.

The affidavit stated that the deputy would eventually subdue and arrest Fonseca and transport him to the Custer County Jail.

A preliminary hearing for Fonseca has been scheduled for June 3.

Colorado Man Charged After Robbery Spree

May 6, 2022 - A Rifle, Colorado man was charged in Custer County District Court recently with robbery with a weapon after a felony conviction after allegedly robbing a Thomas convenience store in February.

A break in the case came when the same suspect was arrested in Texas County and was tied to a similar crime in Woodward County.

According to the probable cause affidavit, 20-year-old Cauy James Smith is accused of handing a store clerk in Thomas a note demanding money on February 22. He would also show the clerk a handgun that he had concealed in the hoodie he was wearing. Once the clerk handed over the cash, which was just over $600, the suspect would flee the scene.

Surveillance footage and witnesses were able to give authorities a description of the suspect's getaway vehicle.

According to court records, Smith is accused of committing a similar crime in Fort Supply in Woodward County on the same day.

An affidavit out of Woodward County showed that Smith had gone into the store, once again handed the clerk a note indicating he was robbing the place, and this time pointed the firearm at the employee before taking the cash and fleeing the scene.

It was made aware to both Woodward and Custer County officials that Smith had been apprehended in Texas County after being pulled over in a vehicle that matched the description of the vehicle used in both crimes. He is currently being held on a $50,000 bond in that county, and was charged with felonies of pattern of criminal offenses, possess firearm during commission of a felony and knowingly concealing stolen property and misdemeanors of possession of controlled dangerous substance – marijuana and unlawful possession of drug paraphernalia.

In Woodward County he has been charged with robbery with a weapon with a bond set at $250,000.

In Custer County his bond was set at $100,000.

According to an affidavit, authorities said Smith had confessed to the robberies in Woodward County and in Thomas.
