A strategy that appears to be paying off

Jerry Nine
Woodward
Livestock
Auction
Woodward, OK

This is the best time I have ever seen to switch old cows or big fat cows and buy a young bred cow or pair.

And some of the big butcher cows figured $1,600 to $1,700 per head. Plus, the small calves are a good price too. We sold old cows that were thin that we split weighing 1,158 pounds and brought $80.89 figured $936.93 and their calves weighed 260 pounds with half heifers and other half bull calves that brought $512.50, which figures $1,449.43 for an old pair with no teeth and thin.

That makes a very good down payment on a young pair. And feeder cattle are gaining strength in price every week.

The last on feed report was supposed to be negative and the very next showing on feeder futures was the opposite of what they predicted. I think that shows a lack of trust in the reports. And any time they come back and they revise a report there should be an investigation of why. My thinking is get it right before you put it out.

We need a rain again but probably more than that is we need cheaper gas and diesel. And we need a big change in policy to start building factories here and quit being so dependent on other countries. If China wants to pay its help 30 cents an hour let them but put a big import tax on its stuff coming in our country to make our stuff cheaper.

At church Sunday they gave all the dads a book called "Minute Motivators for Men." It is written by Stan Toler. It is single-page thoughts that make a lot of sense and is good for a lot of us to think about. One thing it said is there are many things you can't control. You can't control the weather, the traffic, the actions of your boss or the outcome of a sporting event. But there is one thing you can control and that is your attitude. Choose to be a positive thinker. Make it a habit to look for the best instead of the worst, wear a smile and give the other guy a break. It's your life after all so take charge of it. What you think—you are.

If a cowboy is happy does that make him a Jolly Rancher?

An invisible man and invisible woman were married. I'm not sure what they saw in each other. And their kids were nothing to look at either.

Editor's note: Jerry Nine, Woodward, Oklahoma, is a lifetime cattleman who grew up on his family's ranch near Slapout, Oklahoma.

Protective Orders Contested

June 27, 2022 - Four of the five individuals originally served protective orders for allegedly sending threatening and harassing texts to the wife of a State Representative, entered a motion last week to dismiss the petition for protective order at the Custer County Courthouse.

Rachel Moore, wife of District 57 Representative Anthony More, filed protective orders June 20, against Dave Bond, Ray Carter, Mattison Miles, Hallie Milner and Jonathan Small. All are believed to be associated with the Oklahoma Council of Public Affairs.

OCPA issued a statement about the claims made on the basis of the protective orders claiming that none of their staff members have had any contact with Mrs. Moore, and that any claim to the contrary should be accompanied by evidence.

Bond, Carter, Milner and Small are the four individuals contesting the protective order. They are all being represented by Duncan & Hill Law Firm out of Oklahoma City.

Miles was the individual who did not seek a dismissal of the protective order.

In a statement released by the OCPA, the group said that they did determine that one staff member, a former long-time resident of western Oklahoma, did send Moore two text messages in her personal capacity but also claimed that they were not of a threatening nature.

Boxes of Nutritious Food Available to Seniors in Elk City

June 22, 2022 - Qualified seniors in Elk City can receive monthly boxes of nutritious food to supplement their diet through the Commodity Supplemental Food Program (CSFP). The free program, a partnership of the Regional Food Bank of Oklahoma and the Oklahoma Department of Human Services, provides boxes of food items through Help, Inc. Food & Resource Center.

Once a month, qualified seniors will receive a box of 16-20 home pantry staples, such as: pasta, canned meats, canned fruits and vegetables, cheese, shelf-stable milk, fruit juice and cereal.

“Hunger has a serious impact on the health of seniors. It can increase complications of existing health conditions and limit the efficiency of prescription drugs,” said Stacy Dykstra, chief executive officer of the Regional Food Bank. “We urge all qualified seniors to take advantage of this free program and supplement their diet with high quality, nutritious food.”

To qualify, seniors must meet income requirements, be at least 60 years of age, have a valid ID and live in Elk City. Income requirements are based on 130% of the U.S. Federal Poverty Income Guidelines. For a one-person household, recipients must not earn more than $17,677 annually or $1,473 per month. For a two-person household, recipients must not make more than $23,803 annually or $1,984 per month. For more information on how to apply for CSFP, please call the Regional Food Bank partner listed below:

Help Inc., Food & Resource Center,

609 W. Ave. E, Elk City, OK 73648, 580-243-0770.

We recently spoke with Katharine, who receives CSFP boxes monthly from the Regional Food Bank Food & Resource Center.

“My income is limited so going into the grocery store can be a scary experience, especially when you’re trying to eat healthy foods, but this program gives me a boost. This is a scary time in my life, but programs like this help take some of that away. It gives me a reason to get up,” Katharine said.

CSFP is a federal program in which the U.S. Department of Agriculture purchases food in bulk from the nation’s farmers, that food is packaged and made available to state agencies. The agencies then provide the food to local organizations, like the Regional Food Bank, who then distribute the food to community-based partners like food pantries that directly serve the public.

Visit rfbo.org/CSFP to find a listing of CSFP locations across central and western Oklahoma.
