Rain a welcome sight for cattle producers

Jerry Nine
Woodward
Livestock
Auction
Woodward, OK

We got rain and even the gripey cattlemen are smiling. A few people only received a half an inch but most received 1 to 2 inches with a few spots getting 3 to 5 inches of rain.

It will not be a cure-all because a lot of grass looked like the dead of winter before. The rain must have covered a big enough area that the cow- and bull-packer buyers went from mediocre to aggressive in a week's time. Some cows would be $12 per hundredweight and bulls a lot higher, too. Even the medium- to heavy-bred cows are mostly going to slaughter, too.

We need more rain to follow this moisture but looking at the forecast it doesn't show much in sight. But we often get a better chance for moisture when forecasters predict 10 to 20% than we do when they say 70 to 80%.

With all the dry weather when farmers were harvesting wheat or triticale or rye it is hard to find seed for this year to plant. And if you do find it then the thought of summer fallow comes to mind.

Some of the calves seem like they are bringing a good price but with May feeder futures being $190 they might not be as high as they seem. Hay is another item that most feedlots, farmers, and ranchers are very concerned about. I had a customer call from Houston, Texas, asking me if we had enough hay at the sale barn. I told him we did for now. He said in his area there is no hay.

We have a table of coffee drinkers that come to the sale barn cafe and today they were still in there when the sale was over. I had ordered some food and dropped my fork. So like any ole cowboy would do, I picked it up and wiped it off with my shirt. And, yes, I picked the cleanest spot on my shirt. Several of the coffee drinkers said, "You aren't going to use that fork, are you?" I said, "Yes, I swallow more cattle manure blowing in the air going down the alley than you could possible put on that fork." And I added, "What I don't get down the alley I easily get enough of all your alls table."

So one of the guys said, "Then you are saying we shouldn't get sick either." Most of those guys are pretty fleshy. So I said, "Well, I'd say you all look pretty healthy."

Editor's note: Jerry Nine, Woodward, Oklahoma, is a lifetime cattleman who grew up on his family's ranch near Slapout, Oklahoma.

Area Accidents Hospitalize Three

August 9, 2022 - Three people, including an 11-year-old boy, were hospitalized recently after being involved in two separate accidents in western Oklahoma.

According to the Oklahoma Highway Patrol, the first occurred Monday at 12:44pm on US-283 5 miles north of Cheyenne when 34-year-old Tiffany Malson of Durham attempted to avoid a 2015 Peterbilt semi that was pulling out onto the highway from a private drive.

OHP said Malson would strike a 1998 Peterbilt with her 2004 Chevy Avalanche head on.

Troopers said as a result, Malson was admitted into Roger Mills Memorial Hospital in Cheyenne in fair condition with head injuries. A passenger in her vehicle, an 11-year-old boy also from Durham was also admitted into the same hospital in fair condition with head and trunk internal injuries.

The drivers of both semis were uninjured in the mishap.

The second accident occurred early Tuesday morning, just before 3:30am on Interstate 40 at mile marker 83, just east of Weatherford when Troopers say 37-year-old Justin L. Lewis of Geronimo tried to make an adjustment to equipment on the 2017 Harley Davidson Motorcycle he was driving and lost control.

As a result the bike departed the road tot he left and overturned.

OHP said Lewis was admitted into OU Medical Center in Oklahoma City in fiar condition with head and leg injuries.

Elk City House Fire Under Investigation

August 8, 2022 - Elk City fire crews were kept busy early Sunday morning containing a house fire.

According to officials, the fire was suspicious in nature and remains under investigation.

Fire officials responded to the residential structure fire Sunday at 3 a.m. in the 1100 block of Western 1st Street. Firefighters arrived to find the home with heavy fire and heavy smoke emitting from the home. Crews were able to quickly extinguish the fire. Fortunately the home was unoccupied at the time of the blaze.

Fire officials said that due to the suspicious nature of the fire, both the Elk City Fire Department along with the Elk City Police Department are still investigating its cause.

Elk City Man Accused of ID Theft

An Elk City man was arrested recently and charged with five felony counts of identity theft after attempting to obtain credit cards in his father’s name.

Police were made aware of the fraudulent activity by the suspect’s father.

According to the probable cause affidavit Elk City Police were contacted by the father about the suspected crime on August 1. The man would tell an Elk City detective that he had a recording of his son, 33-year-old Jeffrey Paul Walker, admitting to stealing his personal identifying information from inside his home and using that information to obtain the credit cards.

Authorities were provided the recording along with credit card statements that the defendant applied to.

The father would tell detectives that he suspected the suspect began the process of stealing the identity between July 6 – 8 while the man was gone on a trip.

Walker was later located and arrested.

Bond was set at $10,000. His next court date is scheduled for September 12.
