Preacher's words worth contemplating

Jerry Nine Woodward
Livestock Auction
Woodward, OK

The preacher Sunday made some very good comments as he said to quit crying over what you lost but instead concentrate on what you have left.

He said you have to suffer sometimes to get where you need to be. He said, "I can't stop the problem, but I can't let the problem stop me." The preacher said one characteristic we have lost in the last 40 years is our endurance. We are all geared too easily to quit whether it is our job, marriage or just choosing to live.

The devil doesn't want what you got instead he wants you.

They tell me interest rates are at an all-time high for 21 years. The average monthly rent in New York City is $4,000. I wouldn't choose to live there if it was $150.

This paying for kids' college education does make me mad. In other words in some cases we will pay for these doctors and lawyers education and then they will turn around and charge us $150 per hour.

We are dry in a big area. Basically you would have to get up to the Dakotas to get out of this drought. This is six weeks in a row that we have sold over 1,000 cows and most all have gone to slaughter. And a couple of those weeks we sold 1,300 cows.

The last big drought we had in 2011 and 2012 one sale we sold 5,600 cows, bulls, and calves, but it was mostly cows. In that drought, Nebraska had rain and producers came down and bought a lot of our cows. We even sent some cows to Oregon that year. However, now Nebraska is dry, too.

I remember when I was 16 years old and I was on my second date with a gal. We were simply sitting on her porch talking. Her dad came to the door and seemed mad. He said, "Young man, do you think you can stay all night?" I said, "I don't know. Let me call my parents and ask them."

This past week a politician asked me to buy a ticket to a $100-a-plate dinner and then he gave a speech on how he intends on stopping inflation.

This past weekend a friend and I were in a convenience store in Oklahoma City. All of a sudden a man came in with a gun. The gunman said, "Give me all your valuables and money." All the other people were shelling out their money, so I turned to my friend and handed him the $25 I owed him.

"Editor's note: Jerry Nine, Woodward, Oklahoma, is a lifetime cattleman who grew up on his family's ranch near Slapout, Oklahoma."

A Professional Basketball Team is Calling Elk City Home

September 26, 2023 - Minor-league basketball players will make a major impression when the American Basketball Association season tips off here in November.

The Western Oklahoma Bulls, one of the ABA’s newest teams, will play home games at Elk City’s Arrowhead Center.

The Bulls are coached by El Reno native Jonathan Reed. A member of the Cedar Valley Junior College national championship basketball team, Reed played in the NBA Summer League, then the Ireland Professional League where he was named Player of the Year. He also coached at Enid High School.

The team’s home opener is November 4 at the Arrowhead Center.

For ticket information, follow the Western Oklahoma Bulls on Facebook, @westernokbulls on Twitter, or at westernokbulls on Instagram.

The original ABA merged with the National Basketball Association in 1976. Some of the ABA’s most famous players were Julius Irving (Dr. J), George “The Iceman” Gervin, and Rick Barry. These and many others later played in the NBA.

The ABA was reformed in 2000 in partnership with the NBA.

Weatherford Duo Perish in Weekend Crash

September 25, 2023 - Two people from Weatherford died as a result of a three-vehicle collision on Interstate 40 Eastbound in Canadian County Saturday afternoon.

According to the Oklahoma Highway Patrol, the collision happened around 5:44 p.m. near Mile Marker 109.

There is no word on how it happened but officials reported that 60-year-old Gracielia Hawkins of Weatherford and 61-year-old Maria Daniel of Weatherford were killed while in a 2021 Kia Soul.

Troopers also reported that a 2021 Peterbilt was involved and so was a 2024 International. All of the occupants in those two vehicles were treated and released on scene.

Officials reported that seatbelts were in use in all the vehicles and that airbags deployed in the Soul.

The Happy Campers

The rain was coming down so hard, James could barely see the road in front of his RV as he drove into Foss State Park.

“We made it, honey,” James says to his wife, Elaine. “You can stop holding your breath now.”

James and Elaine bought their RV used 2 years ago and they love it. They take weekend trips like this one to parks in Western Oklahoma. They also hit the road for two weeks in the summer and go see parts of the country they always talked about seeing when they first married.

The only problem they had was that soon after they bought it, they noticed that the roof leaked a little after a heavy rain. When that happened, James had to wait until the rains stopped and things dried out, then he’d climb on top of the RV, find where the water was coming in, and caulk it. One time he lost his balance and almost fell from the top of his RV.

The leaking and repairing was bad enough. But each time the forecast called for rain during one of their trips, they started worrying about another leak instead of enjoying the scenery around them.

They decided they didn’t want to worry anymore. So they looked around to see what they could do about it. They loved what they saw on the website www.flexarmorroof.com.

A trip to Rolling Retreats on 20th Street in Elk City was all it took. Their RV was in the shop for 2 days while the crew stripped down the existing roof, then applied the Flex Armor Roof.

When it was done, they couldn’t believe how good it looked. And the zero maintenance/lifetime guarantee meant they’d never have to worry about water leaks again. Ever. They were ecstatic.

And on this particular day, as they look through the windows at the rain falling in sheets around them in Foss State Park, they’re relaxed, their minds drifting.

“Let’s have a cup of coffee while we wait for the rain to let up,” James finally says.

They go to their Keurig, and in a cabinet near their coffee cups they see their caulk gun lying there.

Elaine points at it and says, “We won’t be needing that.” James looks at her and just smiles.
