Advocates for ranchers need to pay closer attention

Jerry Nine
Woodward, OK

Here we go again. That is almost every yearly meeting when the state's sale barns would get together and talk about issues in the cattle business. One issue appears to try to cram down our throats is a national identification on cattle. They call this committee the "Cattle Health and Well Being Committee."

I'm not against the traceable ID on cattle but instead of cramming it down our throats let's do it only if it is a profitability for the individual cattle man. Not just what the National Cattlemen's Beef Association wants. It seems to me whatever NCBA wants then most all of our state cattle organizations get in line with them and agree.

One problem I have with national ID on all cattle is it simply adds $3 to $5 to all cattle selling at the sale barns which in turn makes sellers more willing to bypass sale barns. And if they allow the feedlots to identify them after they arrive it's not that big of a deal because they run all receiving cattle through the chute anyway, so it gives feedlots an advantage over cattle auctions. And all sellers simply figure total cost to sell one. They never consider what each expense is.

In this rule process they said they would allow movement between adjoining states on pasture-to-pasture permits at the discretion of the involved state animal health officials. Well guess what these rules will be whatever benefits them. It does say it will allow for separate rule making process for cattle under 18 months of age. But read between the lines once they get them over 18 months all required to have ID tag then it is an easy transition to require those under 18 months. And ironically with all this said they never once said they would implement Country of Origin labeling, and why is that? Because the packer and retailer can make more by buying meat from God knows where and acting like it is from the U.S. I challenge you to pull it up online and ask yourself what this accomplishes for the individual cattlemen.

A friend went with his wife grocery shopping. He picked up a case of beer and put it in the cart. His wife said, "What are you doing? Put them back we can't afford that." They continue shopping. Later on she puts a $20 jar of face cream in the basket. The husband said, "What are you doing?" She said, "It's my face cream and it makes me look beautiful." He said, "So does the 24 cans of beer and it's half the price." I just picked my friend up at the hospital. He has a broken nose and three busted ribs.

"Editor's note: Jerry Nine, Woodward, Oklahoma, is a lifetime cattleman who grew up on his family's ranch near Slapout, Oklahoma."

THE NO FLY ZONE

- Reduce spread of disease & infestation
- Eliminates man power
- Increase daily rate of gain
- Reduce costly stress of cattle

- No product waste
- Improve overall health on cows and calves
- Saves pressure on fences

"Mike has a simple formula to prove the value of the oiler. 'If the cattle aren't swatting flies, they are eating grass, making milk and putting pounds on the baby. And if the babies aren't swatting flies, he's retaining that weight to go to market with. That's all you've got to sell is weight of the cow.'"

Washita County Owner Receives Centennial Farm Award

January 25, 2024 - Oklahoma Historical Society Press Release - Deputy State Historic Preservation Officer Lynda Ozan announced that an Oklahoma Centennial Farm award has been presented to the owner of a Washita County farm.

Hayden Austin Jr. owns the Hayden G. Austin Jr. Farm located in the vicinity of Foss. The family has grown wheat and raised cattle on the land since grandparents Robert and Ollie Austin settled the land in 1910.

To qualify for a Centennial Farm or Ranch Award, a property must be occupied by a family member for at least 100 years and currently be operated or occupied by a family member or leased out by a family member. The property must include a minimum of 40 acres and gross annual sales of at least $1,000. The Oklahoma Historical Society and the Oklahoma Department of Agriculture, Food and Forestry have sponsored the Centennial Farm and Ranch Awards for 34 years, in which time 98 awards have been given in Washita County.

For further information about the Centennial Farm and Ranch Program, contact Shea J. Otley at 405-522-4485 or shea.otley@history.ok.gov.

The State Historic Preservation Office is a division of the Oklahoma Historical Society. The mission of the Oklahoma Historical Society is to collect, preserve and share the history and culture of the state of Oklahoma and its people. Founded in 1893 by members of the Territorial Press Association, the OHS maintains museums, historic sites and affiliates across the state. Through its research archives, exhibits, educational programs and publications the OHS chronicles the rich history of Oklahoma. For more information about the OHS, please visit www.okhistory.org.

PSO Seeks New Generation Resources

January 25, 2024 - PSO Press Release - Public Service Company of Oklahoma (PSO) has issued a Request for Proposals (RFP) seeking additional generation resources.

The RFP seeks up to 1,500 megawatts of additional power generating capacity to be in service no later than December 15, 2028.

The RFP includes all sources, such as natural gas, wind, solar and energy storage proposals. PSO is open to acquiring energy through a variety of channels such as Power Purchase Agreements, Purchase and Sale Agreements, and Capacity Purchase Agreements.

The RFP gives special consideration to Oklahoma projects, a move designed to keep economic benefits in the state.

"This Request for Proposals will help maintain a diverse, balanced generation portfolio that will serve our customers for many years," said PSO President and Chief Operating Officer Leigh Anne Strahler. "We are pursuing this process with an open mind and a determination to choose the best solutions to meet our customers' needs."

More information on the All-Source RFP is available here.

WHITE DENTAL CARE

Drs. Mori & Teri White, DDS

Sedation Dentistry Calms Fears...

Take a pill and snooze through your dental appointment.

For many Americans, going to the dentist is a frightful event. If you are one of the 145 million people who avoid the dentist due to fear, we have the solution... Sedation Dentistry.

You can now experience your dental appointment through a totally relaxed and comfortable environment. With the help of Sedation Dentistry, you will wake up to find that your dental appointment is over and the restorations have been completed painlessly.

For those with a busy schedule, we can accomplish more dentistry in one appointment which means fewer visits to the dentist.

Sedation Dentistry is available for everything from simple restoration to the most complex procedures. We are very sensitive to our patients needs, especially those with high fear and apprehension. Now we can put an end to anxiety with this safe and wonderful technique of sedation.

We are proud to be able to offer Sedation Dentistry and offer hope to those who have been avoiding the dentist due to fear. If you would like to know more, call our team with your questions.
