Helping out a young neighbor

I had a heifer that had a calf but didn't seem to know that she was supposed to take care of it.

I gave the calf to a neighbor's son, who is 7 years old. I saw the young boy a few days later and asked him about the calf, and I also asked if he had given the calf a name yet. Mom said, "We are not going to name him until we are sure it is going to live."

We received some very nice rain a few days ago. It is very unusual for northwest Oklahoma and the Panhandle to get rain and not the rest of the state. I heard of a report of a man close to Guymon getting 10 inches with Beaver area 5 1/2 inches and our area 2 to 3 inches. It was very nice. The only part that wasn't nice was water gaps and fences laid over. But I am not complaining. I remember a few times with my neighbors to the west getting big rains and us none.

Jerry Nine

We had put in water gaps with no moisture. I told the boys to be sure and bring their rubber boots as there is water standing under the one bridge. I don't know which is the worst: no rubber boots or rubber boots filled with water.

This past weekend we went to a 65th wedding anniversary for my aunt and uncle. While we were there I brought up the memory of when my three cousins came out one day to build fence about 30 years ago. It was on land that my mother and their mother owned together. All three quickly responded with the same scenario of, "I knew I didn't plan on doing that type of work the rest of my life." One of them said that definitely made him study harder.

One man got a huge rain over several days that started out nice and ended up overwhelming. He used a white, 5-gallon bucket to record the rainfall with every inch marked with a different word.

The first inch said "Yay." The next mark said, "Thank you, Jesus." The third mark said, "All Right," and the fourth one, "Wow." The fifth inch said "Sheesh," and the sixth one said "Dag-gnabbit." The seventh inch mark said "Stop," the eighth said, "There goes the lawn chairs." The ninth mark said, "There goes the deck." The 10th mark said "Blubber blbd," the 11th said "SOS" and the 12th inch said, "Help me, Jesus!"

And if the babies aren't swatting flies, he's retaining that weight to go to market with. That's all you've got to sell is weight of the cow."

Canute Man Dies While Changing Tire

July 1, 2024 - A Canute man lost his life in Oklahoma County after a pick up on a jack fell on him while he was changing a tire on Friday night.

According to a report provided by the Oklahoma Highway Patrol, the accident occurred just before 7:30 p.m. on the shoulder of the westbound lanes of Interstate 40, 6 miles south of Choctaw when while changing the driver's side rear tire off of a 2018 Ford F-350, the pickup slipped off the jack and fell onto 54-year-old Clayton Barton.

As a result, Troopers said Barton died on the scene due to injuries he sustained.

Troopers did say that a cause as to why the jack malfunctioned is still under investigation.

Canute Student Passes Away in Roger Mills Co. Accident

July 1, 2024 - A tragic accident over the weekend took the life of a Canute High School student.

It was confirmed by Canute School officials the 17-year-old who passed away was Kelton Milburn.

According to the Oklahoma Highway Patrol's collision report, the two vehicle accident took place Friday night just before 7 p.m. when a 2001 Dodge Ram driven by Milburn failed to yield at a stop sign at the intersection of a county road and OK-33 two miles east of Strong City, and was struck by the 2015 GMC Acadia driven by 67-year-old Charolet L. Lucas of Cheyenne.

Lucas was flown to OU Medical Center in Oklahoma City where she was treated for head injuries. She was last listed to be in stable condition.

SWOSU Tuition Hike Approved

July 1, 2024 - It was announced last week that the Oklahoma State Regents of Higher Education approved requested increases in tuition for the 2024-25 school year for 11 college and universities in the state, including Southwestern Oklahoma State University.

Presidents of Oklahoma's public colleges and universities presented their proposals for hikes in tuition and fees on Wednesday to the Oklahoma State Regents for Higher Education. The regents voted to approve or deny each request on Thursday.

The average tuition increase was 1.6% for Oklahoma residents attending public institutions for higher education.

SWOSU was approved for a 2.2% increase, or $5.81 per credit hour.

By comparison, the highest request came from Northeastern Oklahoma A&M College with a request for a 5.5% increase, or $9 per credit hour.

The regents rejected proposals from Eastern Central University and Rogers State University. Langston University's proposal was partially rejected, with the 3% tuition increase approved but not the 3% increase in fees.

Oklahoma State University did not request any changes in tuition and fees and OU was approved for a 3% tuition increase.
