Benefits of Rotational Grazing in Western Oklahoma & The Texas Panhandle

by: Haley Robertson

Ranchers in Western Oklahoma and the Texas Panhandle are increasingly adopting rotational grazing, a method that is proving to be both environmentally sustainable and economically beneficial. In a region known for its challenging climate and fluctuating rainfall, rotational grazing offers a strategic approach to managing pastureland and livestock.

Rotational grazing involves dividing pastureland into smaller paddocks and systematically moving livestock from one paddock to another. This practice allows each section of land time to rest and recover, preventing overgrazing and promoting healthier pastures. Unlike continuous grazing, where livestock have unrestricted access to a large area, rotational grazing helps maintain optimal grass growth and soil health.

The benefits of rotational grazing are numerous. By allowing pastures to recover between grazing periods, soil health improves, leading to better water retention and reduced erosion. This is particularly important in Western Oklahoma and the Texas Panhandle, where soil erosion and drought are ongoing concerns.

In addition to enhancing soil health, rotational grazing can lead to significant economic gains. Healthier pastures provide a more consistent food source for livestock, reducing the need for supplemental feeding. This consistency can result in better livestock weight gain and overall productivity, ultimately benefiting the rancher's bottom line.

Environmentally, rotational grazing supports biodiversity and promotes the growth of native plant species. By preventing overgrazing, this method helps maintain a balanced ecosystem, contributing to the long-term sustainability of the land.

Implementing rotational grazing requires careful planning and management. Ranchers must consider the size of their paddocks, the number of livestock, and the specific needs of their animals. Infrastructure adjustments, such as installing appropriate fencing and water systems, are often necessary to support the rotational schedule.

While there is a learning curve associated with transitioning to rotational grazing, the long-term benefits make it a worthwhile investment. The practice not only improves land health and livestock well-being but also aligns with the broader goals of regenerative agriculture, which seeks to restore and enhance natural ecosystems.

As rotational grazing becomes more widely adopted in Western Oklahoma and the Texas Panhandle, the region is likely to see lasting improvements in land productivity and resilience. By prioritizing sustainable practices, ranchers can ensure the long-term viability of their operations in an environment that is increasingly subject to the pressures of climate change and resource scarcity.

Rotational grazing offers a practical and effective solution for ranchers looking to balance economic viability with environmental stewardship. As the practice continues to gain ground, it represents a promising path forward for the agricultural landscape of Western Oklahoma and the Texas Panhandle.

Reydon Man Accused of Stabbing

August 27, 2024 - On August 24, the Roger Mills County Sheriff's Office requested assistance from the Oklahoma State Bureau of Investigation (OSBI) to investigate a stabbing incident. Around 3:00 a.m., deputies responded to reports of an injured adult male, who was found to have sustained stab wounds.

Investigators discovered that earlier that morning, an altercation had occurred between the victim and 28-year-old Kody Mabra at a residence near State Highway 30 and Second Street in Reydon. Based on evidence gathered by OSBI special agents, it was determined that Mabra had stabbed the victim during the confrontation. After the stabbing, Mabra fled on foot but was located by deputies at a nearby residence. He was taken into custody and booked into the Roger Mills County Jail on charges of Assault and Battery with a Deadly Weapon.

The victim was transported to a local hospital and is currently in stable condition. No other injuries were reported in the incident. The OSBI extends its gratitude to the Roger Mills County Sheriff's Office for their assistance in the investigation and arrest.

Childress County Court Delivers Consecutive Sentences to Wellington Man

August 26, 2024 - On Thursday, August 15, the 100th Judicial District Court in Childress County, Texas, convened for a significant docket of pleas and sentencing. The session, overseen by the Honorable Judge Dale Rabe, featured District Attorney Luke Inman and Assistant District Attorney Harley Caudle representing the State of Texas.

Among the cases addressed, Martin Juan Benavidez, 35, of Wellington, Texas, was handed a substantial sentence following multiple felony convictions. Benavidez was sentenced to 18 years in prison for a second-degree felony burglary of a habitation committed in Collingsworth County.

Benavidez had initially been placed on probation for this offense on April 10, 2023. However, the State's motion to adjudicate the probation was filed on June 6, 2024, citing 15 violations of the probation conditions. Benavidez admitted to these violations, leading to his sentencing.

In addition to the prison term, Benavidez was ordered to pay $500 in fines, $340 in court costs, and $1,000 in restitution related to the burglary charge.

Benavidez also faced a second set of charges for a second-degree felony of aggravated assault with a deadly weapon, which led to his arrest on April 7, 2024, in Collingsworth County. On August 15, Benavidez pleaded guilty to this charge, resulting in an additional five-year prison sentence. He was ordered to pay $340 in court costs for this conviction.

Judge Rabe ruled that the sentences for the burglary and aggravated assault will run consecutively. Consequently, Benavidez will serve his 18-year sentence for the burglary before becoming eligible for parole on the five-year sentence for aggravated assault.

Fatal Collision on OK-152 South of Elk City Claims Life

August 23, 2024 - A tragic collision occurred last night on Oklahoma Highway 152, about 8.7 miles south of Elk City, resulting in one fatality. The accident, which happened around 8:57 PM, involved two vehicles and remains under investigation.

According to the Oklahoma Highway Patrol, the two-vehicle accident involved a 2015 Toyota Sienna driven by 31-year-old Jia Li of Monterey Park, California, and a 2009 Peterbilt truck driven by 49-year-old Roberto Rubalcaba of Garden City, Kansas.

OHP reported that as a result, a passenger in the Toyota Sienna, 61-year-old Bailing Sun of Santa Ana, California, was pronounced deceased at the scene by Elk City EMS.

Three other unidentified passengers' identities and conditions are still under investigation.

Driver, Li, was transported to Great Plains Regional Medical Center in Elk City, where he was treated and released. His condition at the time of the accident is still under investigation.

How A Business Makes Money

A business makes money by persuading people to be their customers.

To persuade them, you have to understand how people think and what they'll pay attention to.

Just putting information in print, or online, or on a billboard won't do it. Talking for 30 seconds on the radio or TV about what a business is selling won't do it.

Here at Paragon Communications, the real world laboratory of trial and error has taught us what works and what doesn't. We've also learned a lot by studying experts. Because of all that, we've been able to help a lot of businesses make more money.

When business owners partner with us, they're not just buying access to our audiences. They also get access to what we know how to do—persuade people.

A lot of people say they “do advertising,” but the results are disappointing. Here at Paragon Communications, we don't just sell advertising. We know how to persuade people.

That's what a business has to do to make more money.

If you're interested in your business persuading people to be your customers, call the Paragon Communications Advertising Team at 580.225.9696.
