Scheduling is not always so easy

Jerry Nine
Woodward, OK

One man at breakfast this morning asked another man who was about 70 years old what he was doing today. He said, "Well I thought we were going to New Mexico today but I was informed last night that we are going to Tulsa instead."

Another said, "I guess your schedule got changed."

Then one man said, "Don't you have a schedule?" He said, "Yes I do, but mine is a walking, talking schedule." Then they said to me, "That's what you need to get is a walking, talking schedule."

Wow do those guys come up with some silly ideas.

There have been two instances this past week where fentanyl was found or a substance close to that and both incidents were within 100 miles from me in a rural small town. The first instance was a young girl who found some money and it appeared to be two $100 bills. She picked it up and took it to her mother. Her mother told her to immediately to wash her hands. They went to the hospital and it was laced with fentanyl. The money was fake and she was lucky to not test positive.

The second incident was a woman who had stopped to use the bathroom. As she came out she walked to her car naturally grabbed the door handle and started to drive down the road. Immediately her hands and arms started tingling. Authorities tested and it was opioids, which they found had been put on the car door handle. I am a carefree non-worrying person but let's face it, the world we knew five years ago is not the same world we live in now and surprisingly even in rural America.

I think the open border of letting 11 to 15 million people come in where there is no way the government can check out that many even if it wanted to. I personally think this open border will go down in history of being the biggest mistake America has ever made.

This is not a Republican or Democrat issue it is an American issue. Whatever their intent was on those those two incidents—whether robbery or kidnapping—it wasn't good. I ask each of you to pray everyday until the election that God puts the right person in as president of the United States. And then I ask everyone of you to vote.

A friend said to me, "Now I know why they call me a grown up. It is because I groan every time I get up."

A doctor said to me, "Your condition could be hereditary." He said, "Does stupidity run in your family?" I had to say, Yes."

Editor's note: The views expressed here are the author's own and do not represent the view of High Plains Journal. Jerry Nine, Woodward, Oklahoma, is a lifetime cattleman who grew up on his family's ranch near Slapout, Oklahoma.

Premium Aerospace Center Oklahoma and STARBASE Partner to Inspire

October 11, 2024 - Two Burns Flat organizations are using a Soviet jet to encourage western Oklahoma kids to look to the skies for their future.

Premium Aerospace Center Oklahoma (PAC) and STARBASE-Burns Flat—an academy funded by the Department of Defense that encourages 5th graders to pursue careers in Science, Technology, Engineering, and Math (STEM)—are opening kids' eyes to the possibilities of aviation careers.

And they're doing it with a Cold War-era jet.

New PAC trainees are learning aircraft restoration techniques on a Soviet-made MiG-23 that was recently donated by the Stafford Air & Space Museum.

Western Oklahoma 5th graders also get to experience the jet when they tour PAC.

STARBASE-Burns Flat Director Shannan Cloud says that the STEM Academy is eager to tap into PAC's aerospace maintenance expertise as students experience real-life, practical applications of what they learn in the classroom.

"Our goal with this collaboration is to broaden the vision of western Oklahoma students, inspiring them to consider careers in aviation and become involved in the ever-growing aerospace industry," Cloud said.

PAC values STARBASE, its mission, and their shared goal.

"We feel that a hands-on learning opportunity for STEM-Academy students may spark more interest in our young people, driving them to be Oklahoma's future industry leaders," said PAC Director Jose Gonzalez.

The kids from STARBASE seem to love it.

"By the look of amazement in their eyes, it opens a world of aviation they didn't know they could be a part of," Gonzalez said.

The 1978 MiG-23 jet, built in Moscow and capable of carrying nuclear weapons, was deployed to Bulgaria to patrol that communist nation's skies during the Cold War.

The Bulgarian Air Force continued flying the jet after the Cold War ended in 1991, and it was retired after its final flight on March 15, 2001.

August Sales Tax Report: Mixed Results Across Western Oklahoma in 2024

October 10, 2024- Western Oklahoma cities have reported their sales tax intake for August 2024, showcasing a mix of growth and decline compared to 2023.

Elk City led the region with a 4% increase, bringing in $1,324,434.66, up from $1,272,828.26 in 2023. Clinton followed with a modest 1.9% gain, totaling $554,062.47. Cordell saw a slight uptick of 0.25%, reaching $94,407.23.

However, other cities experienced declines. Weatherford reported a 9.9% drop to $1,066,761.28, while Altus saw a small decrease of 0.7%, collecting $1,159,382.98. Woodward's intake fell 5.2% to $1,082,055.82, and Sayre experienced a significant 15% drop to $136,044.95. Mangum saw the steepest decline, with a 26% reduction, dropping to $51,789.39. Hobart also faced an 11.5% decrease to $129,151.16.

Statewide, sales tax intake decreased by 1.2%, totaling $204,834,029.76.
