A good rain still needed

By: Jerry Nine – Woodward, Okla.

A friend of mine just texted me and he was at a cattle auction. He said the auctioneers just sold Helen. So, me, being the concerned cowboy I am, I had to ask, did he sell his wife also named Helen or the cow? He said no, it was the cow. You never know till you ask.

I just took in four bulls and turned them out to breed with quite a few heifers. The bulls have been on hay in a lot where nothing was green. However, where I took these four bulls it is on improved irrigated grass that is very green. I guess I should ask the female readers of this article is this a guy thing if they are hungry? Cause not one of the bulls looked at these heifers instead they had their head down eating. I'm just trying to learn.

It shows we have a chance for moisture this Friday and Saturday. One day shows possibly a quarter of an inch and another maybe half of an inch. I hope so and hopefully over a big area. What a difference it could make.

I was talking to a friend of mine who got mad at a local cattle auction a year ago. Then he called me and said after looking at Facebook he didn't like what another cattle auction had posted. I told him before long you are going to be taking your cattle to Nebraska to sell them.

A rancher not too far away sold 176 black pairs that were 2 years old and mostly calved in December. They had been on wheat so they looked good. They averaged $5,100. A year ago I would have thought a $4,000 young pair was way too high. But now you are only trading that young cow and her calf for two steers that weigh 500 pounds. And it doesn't take long to get that small calf off the cow to bring $2,000. So I guess I don't know what is too high. But I can tell you in a few years.

I would like to thank whoever told my Mom that "WTF" means "Wow that's fantastic". Her texts are so much more fun to read now.

What are the pros and cons of making kids? The pros are making them. The cons are the kids.

The boss just called me today and said, "Hey we are short staffed today." So I suggested that he hire taller people. Today is my day off.

Editor's note: The views expressed here are the author's own and do not represent the view of High Plains Journal. Jerry Nine, Woodward, Oklahoma, is a lifetime cattleman who grew up on his family's ranch near Slapout, Oklahoma.

Sayre Man Faces Multiple Felony Charges in Beckham County

April 7, 2025 – Sayre, OK – A Sayre man is facing multiple felony charges, including four counts of first-degree rape and kidnapping, following a detailed investigation by the Beckham County Sheriff’s Office.

According to court documents filed on April 1, 2025, 43-year-old Cade Rex Taylor has been charged with four counts of rape in the first degree, one count of kidnapping, and one count of domestic assault and battery in the presence of a child. The charges stem from a filed report by the female victim, who alleges a pattern of physical and sexual abuse dating back to 2022.

A warrant has been issued for Taylor’s arrest, with bond set at $20,000. The charges were officially filed in Beckham County District Court on April 1.

Burns Flat Chosen as U.S. Base for European Spaceplane Company

April 7, 2025 – Oklahoma City, OK – The Oklahoma Space Industry Development Authority (OSIDA) has approved a contract to bring the only U.S. operations of DAWN Aerospace, a Netherlands-based company, to the spaceport in Burns Flat.

DAWN plans to launch its Mk-II spaceplane from the site—a high-performance aircraft capable of flying faster and higher than any previous runway-launched vehicle. Though it functions like a rocket, the Mk-II is designed to operate as a certified aircraft. It can take off from a standard 1000-meter sealed runway and fly in shared airspace.

OSIDA board members voted unanimously in favor of the agreement. The decision marks a significant milestone in Oklahoma’s growing commitment to space innovation and research.

DAWN intends to use the Burns Flat facility as its central U.S. location for suborbital flight testing and research. The project is expected to position Oklahoma as a leader in suborbital and microgravity research with potential national security applications.

Board members and OSIDA leadership expressed strong support for the project, viewing it as a major step forward for the state’s aerospace ambitions.

Al Harris Library Hosts Creative Program for National Library Week

Weatherford, OK – Get ready to unleash your creativity and celebrate National Library Week with an evening of relaxation, art, and imagination! The Al Harris Library invites the community to Lines of Imagination: A Zentangle Library Adventure, a hands-on artistic experience taking place on Tuesday, April 8th, at 6:00 PM in the Reference Area.

This year’s National Library Week theme, “Drawn to the Library,” highlights the ways libraries inspire, engage, and connect communities. What better way to embrace that theme than through the meditative art of Zentangle? This easy-to-learn, relaxing method of drawing transforms simple lines into beautiful patterns, allowing participants to explore creativity while unwinding in a stress-free environment.

No prior artistic experience is needed—just bring your curiosity! Supplies will be provided, and attendees will be guided through the Zentangle process. Whether you’re looking to express yourself through art, try something new, or simply enjoy an evening of mindful creativity, this event is the perfect way to celebrate the power of imagination at your library.
