Cattle Futures That Will Have You in the Dog House or on the Couch

by: Jerry Nine – Woodward, Okla.

On Friday last week, the cattle futures took a nose dive. I’m wondering how we got that term, but I’m guessing that years ago, a bunch of kids were jumping off a cliff into the water. A cowboy stopped to watch and decided it looked easy. He said to himself, “I think I’ll try that out.”

Then the old cowboy came up out of the water with not only a bloody nose but also a crooked and bent one. I’m guessing a few cattlemen came up with a bloody nose this weekend after seeing those futures on Friday. I’m also guessing we probably had a few bankers stuttering, not to mention that cattleman’s wife.

That last part reminds me why it was a good idea I never got married. I would have to hear, “You did WHAT?!! They did WHAT?!! And you owe HOW MUCH?!!”

All the feeder contracts through May 2026 fell to the limit of $9.25/cwt. On Monday, since they moved the limit, they can basically move 150% to $13.75/cwt. So in a 2-day move, feeders could move to $23.00/cwt.

That is too much to be able to move.

A banker may be fine when you buy and hedge them, but he might make you do something stupid rather than just make margin calls. Fat cattle can move $7.25 in any one day, but if they move the limit the next day, prices will move to $10.75/cwt—too much either way.

Sometimes you need a little time to think about it the next morning when futures open before making a rational decision. That is the main reason a married couple should always have a couch in the living room. After falling to $23.00/cwt, the bedroom is hers, not both of yours anymore.

Fat cattle contracts are 40,000 lbs, with feeders at 50,000 lbs. I don’t understand that logic on fat cattle contracts because most semis haul 50,000 lbs. So on feeder cattle, if futures move the limit in either direction for 2 days straight, that is $11,500.00 per contract. On 800 lb steers, that’s $185.00 per head—and if you had 500 steers, that’s $92,500 in just 2 days.

Right after I got out of college, I worked in a bank for a while. A lady came up to me and asked me to check her balance, so I pushed her over. I still don’t know why they fired me.

I bought my wife 12 pairs of panties all the same color. She asked, “Why did you get the same color for all? People will think I don’t change my panties.” So I said, “Which people?”

Editor’s note: The views expressed here are the author’s own and do not represent the view of The Penny News. Jerry Nine, Woodward, Oklahoma, is a lifetime cattleman who grew up on his family’s ranch near Slapout, Oklahoma.

Local Sales Tax Numbers Show Mixed Results Across Western Oklahoma

August 11, 2025 Oklahoma City, OK – The latest sales tax report is in, reflecting actual sales from June 16 to 30 and estimated sales from July 1 to 15. Compared to the same period in 2024, most area towns posted gains — with a few exceptions.

Elk City led the region in total collections with $1,429,800.20, an 8.8% increase over last year. Weatherford saw a modest 1.3% bump, bringing in $1,082,655.48. Clinton’s numbers dipped slightly by 1.2%, collecting $562,475.21.

By comparison, Altus and Woodward both posted solid gains — Altus up 7.4% to $1,164,393.27, and Woodward up 7.6% to $1,153,045.91. Sayre saw a sharper drop, down 8.7% at $123,674.61.

Smaller communities in the area saw Sayre down 8.7% at $123,674.61. Mangum had the largest percentage jump, climbing 25% to $60,842.51. Cordell also saw a healthy increase of 2.9%, with $99,092.51 collected.

Statewide, Oklahoma brought in $253,345,460.97, a 7.8% year-over-year increase.

Weatherford Woman Killed in Custer County Crash

August 11, 2025 - Weatherford, OK – An 81-year-old Weatherford woman died Thursday afternoon following a crash in Custer County, according to the Oklahoma Highway Patrol.

Troopers said the crash happened at 2:47 p.m. on State Highway 54 at the South Frontage Road.

The driver, identified as Alice Perkins, was the only person in the vehicle. She was wearing a seatbelt at the time of the crash but died from her injuries.

The cause of the collision remains under investigation.

Arapaho-Butler School District Proposes Bond for New Agriculture Education Facility

August 12, 2025 – Arapaho, OK – The Arapaho and Butler communities have a long history of supporting local students, and district leaders say that support has made a lasting difference.

In recent years, voter-approved bonds have helped fund major projects, including a new gymnasium and four high school safe room classrooms in 2010, and four early childhood safe room classrooms with a lunchroom addition in 2016.

Over the past decade, the district and Board of Education have worked to stretch every tax dollar, completing numerous improvements without seeking additional bonds. Those projects include:

- New HVAC systems
- LED lighting district-wide
- New hallway floors and classroom carpeting
- Addition of a music room and STEM lab
- Purchase of several new buses and school vehicles
- New ceiling in the old gym

Superintendent Jay Edelen said bond proposals are only brought forward when a need cannot be met through the operational budget. This year, that need is a new Agriculture Education facility, which he called “a vital investment for our students and our community’s future.”

The total project cost is $5.475 million, with a projected 8.95% ad valorem tax increase — less than what was required for the 2016 early childhood classrooms. The proposal is for a 10-year term, with election day set for September 9.

In the coming weeks, the district will spotlight the Arapaho-Butler FFA program, its students, and their activities to help illustrate the need for the facility. Community meetings will be held in both Arapaho and Butler, with dates to be announced.

For more information, contact Superintendent Jay Edelen at 580-323-3262 or email jedelen@arapaho.k12.ok.us.
