Christmas, Church, & Calves

by: Jerry Nine – Woodward, Okla.

Christmas is almost here. For some it's a fun time to get together with family. For others, a stressful or lonely time. Have each family member do something nice for someone else outside of the family. Then when you get together, have them share what they did and who they helped. This encourages all of us to be givers. There is no age that is too young to start that tradition.

At church this morning the preacher's sermon was making room for Jesus. He asked us each to reflect on our busy life, sometimes stressful, sometimes just extremely busy trying to make a living. But he said, "How much time do you really give him?". Some of us go to church every week and some once in a while, but most of us only talk to God if we have a problem.

I have used these portable wheel corrals a lot for gathering cattle. They are extremely handy but like with any equipment there can be certain times they can be dangerous. Do not let anyone stand on the side of them when moving them and also when you unhook them. A long time ago I went to hook one up to my pickup. I backed up to the hitch and lifted it, but I was slightly uneven ground so one wheel in the front moved slightly back. So I backed up the pickup again a few inches to lift the tongue again. But again the same thing happened moving the tongue further from my hitch. The 3rd time I lifted the tongue it went over my head and laid it flat on the ground. I was standing in disbelief as the ground wasn't that unlevel.

If anyone would have been standing on the side of the corral they would have been smashed. Something similar happened a few weeks ago except we were rolling the corral up to move it. The corral had been used a lot as we have had it for a long time. My son said, "Dad, that side is leaning more than usual". I said, "It's old and we need to weld it on". We started pushing on top and gave away and the whole corral collapsed. Luckily, we were both pushing it and it fell away from us. Had either either or both been pulling from the other side we would have been smashed or killed under the corral. If your corral sides lean, be sure to examine it and have it welded.

A gal walks into a bar and asks the bartender, "What do I get for a man that has everything for Christmas?" He said. "A divorce." Then he only has half of everything.

Editor's note: The views expressed here are the author's own and do not represent the view of The Penny News. Jerry Nine, Woodward, Oklahoma, is a lifetime cattleman who grew up on his family's ranch near Slapout, Oklahoma.

Investigation Uncovers Fraud Scheme Involving Jail Inmate

December 22, 2025 • Sayre, OK – An investigation by the Beckham County Sheriff’s Office uncovered an attempted fraud scheme involving an inmate inside the Beckham County Jail, according to Sheriff Derek Manning.

Manning said the case was uncovered through the independent investigative work of one detective, who identified suspicious activity and quickly began following leads. What started as a single investigation soon expanded to involve multiple people.

According to the sheriff, the inmate was attempting to bond out of jail with plans to leave the state and evade current charges. The inmate allegedly believed associates in another state would hide him and had assured others involved that they would be paid for their efforts.

The investigation revealed the inmate was encouraging individuals outside the jail to use stolen company checks, forge the business owner’s signature, and use the funds to pay a $5,000 bond. The company owner whose name was forged was also incarcerated at the time.

Investigators intercepted the plan before the bond was completed. The fraudulent check was recovered before being processed, preventing the bail bondsman from suffering a significant financial loss.

As a result of the investigation, authorities obtained warrants and arrested two women believed to be involved in the scheme. At least one confession has been obtained, and investigators say additional details could lead to more charges or arrests.

Manning noted the unusual nature of the case but said it serves as a reminder that criminal activity does not stop simply because someone is in custody.

“This was a complicated set of circumstances,” Manning said, “but good investigative work stopped it before it went any further.”

The case remains under investigation.

Amazon Plans 30,000 Square Foot Delivery Station in Weatherford Industrial Park

December 18, 2025 • Weatherford, OK – Plans are moving forward for a new Amazon delivery facility in Weatherford, a development local leaders say will strengthen the area’s economy and create new employment opportunities.

The company will build a 30,000 square foot last mile delivery station in the Weatherford Industrial Park North, located near Interstate 40. The facility will play a role in Amazon’s national logistics system, supporting faster delivery service throughout western Oklahoma and nearby regions.

The Weatherford Industrial Trust, working with the City of Weatherford, finalized the sale of slightly more than 10 acres in the Industrial Trust North Park for the project. The agreement represents the first completed land sale within the park, signaling momentum for future business growth and investment.

Construction is slated to begin in early 2026. City officials view the project as a major milestone in expanding Weatherford’s industrial footprint and at-
