New Year Thanks, Hay Woes, and a Few

by: Jerry Nine – Woodward, Okla.

Most cattle auctions in our area are closed for 2 weeks and will reopen the first week in January. For the last 2 years most cattlemen have experienced extremely good profits. A lot of that is due to the drought experienced starting in 2011 and covered 7 or more states in our area. It continued in some areas for several more years! Almost every year there is a drought somewhere in the US, but most always does not cover near the area it did then.

The other fact is we have great beef demand. In 2011 a lot of ranchers sold half of their cows and had to buy hay for the next year on the ones they kept. Luckily, Nebraska came down and bought a lot of our better cows. We even sent a few to Oregon! Thank the Lord it started raining the next spring as if it hadn't we would have had very few cows left.

SALE EVERY FRIDAY - 9AM

To consign or for info,
call Brandon Hickey, 580-497-6095

I got hay from North and South Dakota for the sale barn, and a lot of the hay we got toward the end was not that great of hay. There was simply so much demand for any hay that the price was either outrageous, or you simply got whatever they would send. Anyway, we survived and now we are reaping some benefits of that drought.

I went to the sale on Tuesday to buy some calves and toward the end my phone had died. So I took my phone into the office and asked the gals if they would charge my phone. I tease a lot, so I should have known it was my payback time. As I took my phone back in to buy some more calves I looked down and they had changed my phone cover to a picture of those three gals each with their tongue sticking out. So I had to come up with something. So I said, "Oh yeah, I forgot to tell you guys last week I had gone to the assisted living and took some pictures of the women there", meaning their picture.

Anyway, we are starting a new year. Strive to be happy, laugh, and have fun. Every day is a gift from God. Tell God everyday, thank you for another day! Be the person that everyone wants to be around!

Sayre Water Service Restored After Christmas Day Main Break, Boil Advisory Pending Test Results

December 29, 2025 • Sayre, OK – City officials in Sayre say water service has been fully restored following a major 12 inch transmission line break early Christmas morning, with testing now underway to lift the city’s precautionary boil water advisory.

City Manager Ted Lawson said the break occurred around 3 a.m. Christmas Day when alarms showed a sudden drop in pressure at the city’s south pump station. A large hole developed in the 12 inch main that brings water into Sayre, cutting off the city’s primary water supply.

Lawson explained the location of the line made repairs difficult and dangerous. The pipe was buried beneath several feet of rock, concrete, and rebar from material brought in years ago during bridge removal work. Crews spent hours trying to locate and isolate the leak, but several older valves would not fully shut down the line, forcing the city to temporarily shut down the main pump station. After repeated cave ins made it impossible for a backhoe to reach the pipe, Beckham County District 1 Commissioner Carl Don Campbell provided a track hoe to safely excavate the area. Crews ultimately removed and replaced a 12 foot section of pipe after an attempted patch caused the damaged line to split further.

Water service was restored by about 5 p.m. Friday, with system pressure brought back above the required minimum of 25 pounds per square inch. Lawson said the system is now running between 75 and 80 psi.

Following guidance from the Oklahoma Department of Environmental Quality, the city issued a precautionary boil water advisory Friday evening. To lift the advisory, the city must maintain proper pressure for at least 72 hours and show acceptable chlorine residual levels throughout the system.

Lawson said chlorine levels are currently strong, averaging around 1.0 residual, well above the minimum requirement. City crews began collecting bacteriological samples across town Monday, with a second round scheduled Tuesday. If both sets of samples return clear, the advisory could be lifted as early as Wednesday.

During the outage and recovery, bottled water was distributed to residents, including deliveries from North Fork and additional supplies staged for pickup. A potable water truck was also arranged to provide safe drinking water if needed. City staff contacted elderly residents directly to ensure they were informed, while notices were posted at businesses and updates shared through social media and the city website.

Lawson praised the community response, thanking county officials, neighboring cities, local businesses, and residents for providing equipment, supplies, food, and support. He also commended city employees who worked through hazardous conditions and spent Christmas away from their families to restore service.

Officials stress the boil advisory remains precautionary and residents should continue boiling water until the city announces it has been lifted. Residents with questions are encouraged to contact City Hall.

Oklahoma’s Recognized Political Parties Keep Primaries Closed

December 22, 2025 • Oklahoma City, OK – State Election Board Secretary Paul Ziriach announced today that no political party filed a notice to allow Independents to vote in its primaries and runoff primaries during the 2026-2027 election years. Since no political party provided a notification to the State Election Board Secretary by the statutory deadline, all primaries will remain closed for the 2026-2027 election years. Oklahoma has three recognized political parties: Democratic, Libertarian, and Republican.

Oklahoma is a modified closed primary state. In order to participate in a party’s primary or runoff primary, you must be a registered voter of that party; however, there is an exception. In every odd-numbered year between November 1 and November 30, state law allows all recognized political parties in Oklahoma the opportunity to open their primaries and runoff primaries to Independents during the next two election years by notifying the Secretary of the State Election Board. If a party chooses to open its primaries, the deadline is extended to December 15 for the other recognized parties to respond or change their response. If no notice is provided, a party’s primary remains closed under state law.

Voters who would like to change their party affiliation should do so before April 1, 2026. State law prohibits party affiliation changes April 1 through August 31 of even-numbered years. Party affiliation changes submitted during the closed period will be processed on September 1, 2026.

More information about political parties is available on the State Election Board website.
