pens”. The packer said $1.00 cwt. So he sold them at $255.00 cwt for me and the other. Maybe that is discrimination. I hear that on TV all the time. That reminds me when I was in my 20’s I was at a dance and walked up to a gal and said, “How are you?” She said, “No, thank you”. I said, “I didn’t ask you to dance, I just said ‘How are you?’”.

A friend of mine who is married put his girlfriend’s phone number on his cell phone as “Low Battery” with no ring tone. When she calls and his wife sees it she plugs it into the charger.

I got pulled over by the police today. When he came up to my window he said, “I’ve been waiting all day for you”. I said, “I got here as fast as I could”.

Editor’s note: The views expressed here are the author’s own and do not represent the view of The Penny News. Jerry Nine, Woodward, Oklahoma, is a lifetime cattleman who grew up on his family’s ranch near Slapout, Oklahoma.

cheaper than a regular hamburger plus a bottle of aspirin. I think the guy should get married again or at least a girlfriend during harvest so he could have some free labor. Oh yeah, I forgot nothing is free.

How do you figure this cattle market out? They talk about screw worm problems in the US and then the market goes up practically the limit. I had some fat cattle for sale so I called the feedlot and said, “Have you had any bids on your fat cattle?”. He said, “Yes, but they didn’t like my pen and another guy’s cattle”. Imagine that! But he said, “I asked the packer how much less would you be on those 2 plainer

A friend of mine said, “My wheat made twice what I thought it would”. Another said “That’s great”. He said, “No, not really. I thought it would make 4 bushels per acre and it made 8”. Thankfully he has his own combine but even at that I’m not sure how good you are in math but let me help you.

He said this year using his own combine the fuel was $6.00 per acre. He also farmed it 3 times with fuel $5.00 acre before planting. The seed when he planted it was $10.00 an acre. So far the repair bill is zero but he is holding his breath because last year it was $6,000.00 and the year before that $20,000.00. Also his fuel to get the wheat to his bin is $1.00 per acre. The way I have it figured out is $32.00 per acre using his old machinery and if he will charge himself $10.00 per acre for his own seed next fall I simply think he just needs more acres. I forgot to figure in a 12 pack of beer each day plus 2 Happy Meals cause they are

Two Injured After Vehicle Strikes Deer, Catches Fire Near Elk City

June 8, 2026 • Elk City, OK – Two people were injured early Monday morning after a vehicle reportedly struck a deer, left the roadway, hit a tree, and caught fire east of Elk City.

According to Elk City Fire Chief Kyle Chervenka, emergency crews were dispatched at approximately 1:36 a.m. after receiving an automatic crash notification from an iPhone.

“As fire crews arrived on scene, we found a single vehicle upright in the ditch,” Chervenka said. “The vehicle was fully involved in fire.”

The accident occurred on Country Club Road near the Elk City Police Department gun range.

Chervenka said bystanders arrived before emergency personnel and were able to remove one of the occupants from the burning vehicle. Both occupants were transported for medical treatment. One patient was flown to Oklahoma City by medical helicopter, while the other was taken by ambulance to Great Plains Regional Medical Center.

The conditions of the victims were not available.

The cause of the crash remains under investigation by the Oklahoma Highway Patrol. However, preliminary information indicates the vehicle may have struck a deer before leaving the roadway and colliding with a tree.

Chervenka noted that automatic crash notifications from iPhones are becoming more common for emergency responders.

“We get a lot of those,” he said. “About 99 percent of the time, somebody left a phone on top of their car and it fell off. But we treat every one of them the same because you never know.”

He added that firefighters have responded to several recent crashes involving deer and observed numerous deer in the area while working the scene.

“They’re moving, and there’s a lot of them out there,” Chervenka said. “We’ve been out on several calls lately with vehicles striking deer. It must be that time for them to start moving a little bit.”

Motorists are encouraged to remain alert, especially during nighttime and early morning hours when deer activity tends to increase.

Beckham County SROs Attend Statewide School Safety Conference

Sayre, OK – Beckham County Sheriff’s Office School Resource Officers recently attended the Oklahoma Association of School Resource Officers (OKASRO) Conference, joining law enforcement officers, educators and school administrators from across the state to discuss current school safety challenges and best practices.

School Resource Officers Joseph Coats and Richard Jones attended the conference alongside Erick Public Schools Principal Steven Whalen, where they participated in training sessions and collaborative discussions focused on enhancing school safety and preparedness.

Conference topics included legal updates affecting school safety, identifying child predator tactics and behaviors, recognizing grooming and inappropriate communication warning signs, extortion and emerging digital threats facing students, and prevention strategies related to nihilistic violence and school shooting prevention.

The conference also provided an opportunity for Beckham County Sheriff’s Office personnel and Erick school administrators to collaborate on future safety planning efforts and discuss ways to further strengthen existing security measures within their schools.

“Although our schools are inherently safe and have effective prevention and protocol measures in place, it remains essential to conduct tabletop discussions and continually evaluate potential concerns,” said Beckham County Sheriff Derek

Manning.” The Beckham County Sheriff’s Office remains committed to exploring new approaches to school safety while expanding training opportunities, professional relationships and resources that enhance school security efforts.”

“School safety requires constant attention and preparation,” Manning added. “Training opportunities such as the OKASRO Conference allow us to stay informed on emerging issues, build relationships with other professionals and bring valuable knowledge back to our schools and communities. Our goal is to continue strengthening partnerships with educators while ensuring the safest possible environment for our students.”
