Ranching Through the Dry Spell

by: Jerry Nine – Woodward, Okla.

Just in case you hadn't noticed, in our area it has been hot! And worse than that is the lack of moisture. Plus our area had no subsoil moisture so everything has dried up. Most all the pastures look like the dead of winter. Actually 30 miles west of where I live earlier in a few places we did grow grass. It may be dried up now but perhaps some forage. If it doesn't rain soon and quite a bit there will be a lot of cows hit the auction. I like to keep my 9 and 10 year old cows in a separate pasture so if it gets dry they are the first to go. And when I preg check and tag the cows that are heavy bred with no teeth they perhaps get to raise one more calf. When I buy cows that I add to the herd and anytime we preg and age I will put a little ear notch in the name tag according to the year we think they were born using the clock on the eartag. For example if I think the cow is 8 years old and this is 2026 she should have been born in 2018 so I ear notch my name tag where 8 is on the clock. I like using name tags and my phone number on the tag. I have gotten several back from neighbors and have delivered several cattle to them. In fact I told a neighbor the other day it's a good thing she saw your blue tag or I would have assumed she was mine as she was with a lot of other black cows. Then we paired her up with her calf before we branded.

I was listening to the radio this morning and they quoted a far left person saying well tipping is racist. What kind of idiot says something like that? I have tipped blacks, Mexicans, and orientals. I couldn't care less what color their skin is. Some people love hatred. What a miserable life.

A friend of mine asked his wife How many guys have you slept with? She said Just you. He said no, be serious. She said I am - everyone else kept me up all night.

I went to the bar last night and saw a fat chick dancing on a table. I said wow great legs. She smiled and said Really? I said yeah most tables would have collapsed by now.

Editor's note: The views expressed here are the author's own and do not represent the view of The Penny News. Jerry Nine, Woodward, Oklahoma, is a lifetime cattleman who grew up on his family's ranch near Slapout, Oklahoma.

This is really deflating

Washita, Jackson Counties Issue Burn Bans Amid Extreme Heat, Dry Conditions

August 10, 2026 - Cordell, OK – Commissioners in Washita and Jackson counties have issued countywide burn bans as hot, dry and windy conditions continue to raise wildfire concerns across western and southwestern Oklahoma.

Both resolutions were approved Monday, Aug. 10, and took effect immediately. The bans can remain in effect for up to 14 days and may be extended if extreme fire danger continues. Oklahoma Forestry Services says county burn bans are based on factors including weather forecasts, dry vegetation, recent fire activity and input from local fire officials.

Under the resolutions, outdoor burning of forests, grass, range land, crops and other wildlands is prohibited. Campfires, bonfires and the burning of trash or other materials that could start a wildfire are also prohibited.

In Jackson County, violations can result in a fine of up to $500, imprisonment for up to one year, or both. The Washita County resolution lists a fine of up to $1,000, imprisonment for up to one year, or both.

The bans come as the region faces another stretch of triple-digit temperatures. As of late Monday morning, Altus was sunny and around 96 degrees, with temperatures expected to climb above 100 during the afternoon. The National Weather Service forecast calls for a high near 104 in the Altus area, with southerly winds gusting above 20 mph. A Heat Advisory is also in effect.

Conditions are similarly hot in Washita County. Around Cordell, temperatures are expected to reach approximately 104 degrees Monday, with a Heat Advisory in effect through the evening. Hot weather is expected to continue through much of the week.

Rain does not appear likely to provide much immediate relief. The National Weather Service says western Oklahoma will remain hot and mostly dry through much of the week. Around Jackson County, the first notable rain chance currently showing in the forecast is only about 20 percent Thursday night.

With little immediate rainfall expected, residents are urged to follow the burn bans and use extra caution with anything capable of producing sparks or starting a grass fire.

Tourian Named to SWOSU Presidential Order of Merit

August 11, 2026 - Weatherford, OK – The 20th Annual Southwestern Oklahoma State University (SWOSU) Athletic Auction & Benefit Dinner held Saturday, August 8, was also the stage for a special recognition.

Mr. Rouben Tourian of Weatherford, a 1996 & 2013 SWOSU alumnus, was presented with one of the university's highest honors, the SWOSU Presidential Order of Merit by SWOSU President Dr. Joel Kendall.

SWOSU President the late Dr. John Hays, a 1969 SWOSU graduate and 2011 Distinguished Alumnus, established the Order in 2004—it is the highest honor in the personal gift of SWOSU's chief executive. Induction into the Order is reserved for individuals who have shown outstanding achievement on the state, national or international level, in the arts, sciences, business, industry, the professions, sports, social service or public service. This recognition represents recognition of significant distinction that a member of the SWOSU family has attained.

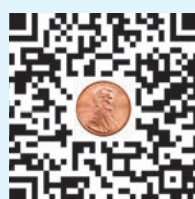

Tourian has a long and distinguished track record of service to his alma mater. He has held full-time roles at the institution including serving as SWOSU Assistant Athletic Director of External Operations and SWOSU Assistant Director of Institutional Advancement for Special Projects. Tourian was the driving force behind the very first SWOSU Athletic Auction & Benefit Dinner and has remained involved with the event each year for two decades. Since its inception the Auction has provided over $2.5 million in support to SWOSU's student-athletes and their programs.

Tourian resides in Weatherford with his daughter, Ava Tourian.

Tourian's appointment to the SWOSU Presidential Order of Merit is Kendall's first such conferral since being named the university's 19th President.

The SWOSU Presidential Order of Merit is headed by the SWOSU President and stewarded by the SWOSU Foundation, Inc. An independent, institutionally related charitable entity headquartered on the SWOSU Campus in the historic Burton House, the Foundation was established in 1977 to promote philanthropy, award scholarships and distribute funds to support the activities and programs of SWOSU.
