A Lot Going On in This World

by: Jerry Nine – Woodward, Okla.

There is a lot going on in this world. There are wars and rumors of wars. Have you ever heard that remark? Does the phrase "Birthing Pains" remind you of anything? It's in the Bible talking about the end times. To me it seems we have had a lot of disasters like large fires, floods, and earthquakes. And lots of unrest with socialism and communism entering our political world. Don't take that lightly. If that ever gets established in America it will be hard to reverse it. Do I like everything that is happening in America? No, but we are still the best country in the world. Let me ask you one thing if socialism and communism are so wonderful, then why are they fleeing those countries to come to America?

It appears or at least hopefully that we have found a bottom and are moving the market higher. We had already moved some higher, but Monday our feeder cattle futures were as much as $5.75 cut higher and fat cattle futures as much as $2.90 cut higher. Do I think we are going back to all-time highs soon? No but hopefully we will find a nice level to get back to.

We finally got some rain in our area but still very spotty with some spots getting a little over an inch of moisture and other areas receiving none. Hopefully it is a start and by next week I can report that our whole area received nice rains throughout. Never be too proud to ask God for rain and always tell him thank you after you get it.

I was in the Quick Stop. I ordered biscuits and gravy. After she took my order, she said to the gals fixing it what I wanted, then I said "pretty please." I said does that help. She said I have been back there and it is nice to hear when you are back there doing the work. So I told her maybe I should say that to my hired hands. So I walked back to where a man who works for me was and told him the story. I said would it help if I said pretty please? He said no it probably works on a Grandma, meaning his wife but probably not on me.

You will be very proud of me now that I have cut down to only one vodka drink before going to bed. However, I couldn't sleep so I went to bed 4 times.

Editor's note: The views expressed here are the author's own and do not represent the view of The Penny News. Jerry Nine, Woodward, Oklahoma, is a lifetime cattleman who grew up on his family's ranch near Slapout, Oklahoma.

SWOSU History Education Program Earns National Accreditation

September 14, 2026 - Weatherford, OK – Southwestern Oklahoma State University's (SWOSU) History Education program has earned national recognition from the National Council for the Social Studies (NCSS) following a three-year review. The review examined the program's curriculum, student outcomes and preparation of future social studies teachers. The recognition confirms that the program meets national standards for social studies teacher education.

Reaching this point required close collaboration between two SWOSU departments. Dr. Sunu Kodumthara and Dr. Becky Bruce from the Department of Social Sciences worked with Professor Haley Price and Dr. Veronica Aguinaga from the Department of Education throughout the review. Together, they compiled extensive documentation of the program's curriculum, assessments and student outcomes. Their collaboration united expertise in history and teacher preparation around a shared goal of helping students become knowledgeable, capable educators.

SWOSU's History Education program combines history coursework with preparation for the classroom. Students strengthen their research, source analysis, critical thinking, writing and communication skills, then learn how to use that knowledge as teachers. Individual guidance from faculty and connections with local school districts support them throughout the program. By graduation, students are fully licensed to teach in Oklahoma and ready to serve schools across the state.

“National recognition from the NCSS validates our commitment to train the next generation of social studies educators,” said Kodumthara, Professor of History and current History Education coordinator. “This recognition is a testament to the exceptional standard of our curriculum and our faculty's dedication to student success across departments.”

Founded in 1921, NCSS is the nation's largest professional association devoted to social studies education. The organization establishes standards used to evaluate programs that prepare future social studies teachers. NCSS recently announced that this will be its final year participating in program accreditation, though its broader work on behalf of educators will continue. SWOSU's History Education program is among the final programs in the country to complete the review and earn national recognition through the process.

For more information about SWOSU History Education program, contact Dr. Sunu Kodumthara at sunu.kodumthara@swosu.edu or Department Chair Dr. Fred Gates at fred.gates@swosu.edu.

Wildfire Danger Intensifies Across Western Oklahoma After Roger Mills County Fires

Roger Mills County, OK – Roger Mills County firefighters battled three separate grass fires Saturday night near the intersection of N19080 and E820 roads. According to Roger Mills County Emergency Management, all county fire departments were paged around 9:30 p.m. Sept. 12 to a large lightning-caused grass fire about five miles east of Roll.

While crews were responding, a second grass fire was reported in the same area. About 10 minutes later, a third fire was reported near N19080 and E820 roads.

Hammon and Leedey fire departments were diverted to the third fire, while Dewey County Tanker was also requested. By 11:30 p.m., all three fires had been contained. Most departments were released from the scene, with the remaining crews released around 1 a.m.

The fires come as Oklahoma Forestry Services and local fire departments respond to increasing wildfire activity across the state.

One of the largest incidents is the Gracemont Fire in Caddo County. The fire had grown to approximately 3,000 acres and was reported at zero percent containment, with the U.S. Wildland Fire Service managing the incident. Oklahoma Forestry Services has also mobilized Task Force Goldsby and Task Force Weatherford as conditions worsen.

Western and southwestern Oklahoma are among the areas facing the greatest concern. Temperatures around 100 degrees, combined with south winds of 15 to 20 mph and gusts approaching 30 mph, could allow any new fire to spread rapidly. The National Weather Service forecast for Elk City calls for a high near 100 Monday with south winds gusting as high as 30 mph.

Persistent drought and a lack of meaningful rainfall have left grasses and other vegetation extremely dry. Under these conditions, even a small ignition can quickly develop into a fast-moving wildfire.

Some Hope for Rain Later This Week

Unfortunately, western Oklahoma is not expected to receive much relief during the first half of the week. Elk City is forecast to reach around 100 degrees Monday and Tuesday, followed by highs in the upper 90s Wednesday and middle 90s Thursday.

There is, however, some reason for optimism late in the week. Rain chances begin to increase as another front approaches. The National Weather Service currently gives the Elk City area a 30 percent chance of showers and thunderstorms Thursday night, with additional 30 percent chances Friday.

While widespread soaking rainfall is far from guaranteed, the cooler temperatures and chances for thunderstorms late in the week would be welcome news for firefighters, ranchers and farmers across drought-stricken western Oklahoma.

Sedation Dentistry Calms Fears...
Take a pill and snooze through your dental appointment.

For many Americans, going to the dentist is a frightful event. If you are one of the 145 million people who avoid the dentist due to fear, we have the solution... Sedation Dentistry.

You can now experience your dental appointment through a totally relaxed and comfortable environment. With the help of Sedation Dentistry, you will wake up to find that your dental appointment is over and the restorations have been completed painlessly.

For those with a busy schedule, we can accomplish more dentistry in one appointment which means fewer visits to the dentist.

Sedation Dentistry is available for everything from simple restoration to the most complex procedures. We are very sensitive to our patients needs, especially those with high fear and apprehension. Now we can put an end to anxiety with this safe and wonderful technique of sedation.

We are proud to be able to offer Sedation Dentistry and offer hope to those who have been avoiding the dentist due to fear. If you would like to know more, call our team with your questions.
